Back at it again! Ugh. I'm moving to Bellevue soon, so hopefully this problem will go away soon.

Haha. I can't even use my mobile hotspot because I used all of it to FaceTime a friend while watching the new season of Stranger Things. Totally worth it. That scene with Max is ABSOLUTE FIRE!! I've been vibing to 80's music throughout the week. 10/10 would recommend.

Today while I was bored out of my mind with no internet access, I spent 4 hours coding, 2 hours drawing, some reading, cooking, and testing my updated Snake AI. My goal is for Rémi (My computer) to reach 100 points on its own. Look how close it got!!

95. It's almost there!!

I spent a couple hours drawing a self portrait, while contemplating the extent to which you can love yourself before you become narcissistic.

I might write about that later... because I find social constructs amusing and fascinating, but I'm really tired right now and I still have to do cardio. Bleugh.

Anyways. Ta'da!
